

Artist's Logbook

Artist Name: Rosie Carnall

Art-form: Creative writing

Activity Name: Story-making - My Surprising, Helpful Visitor

Instructions

You will need:

Pencil and paper.*

Your imagination!

*if it's easier, perhaps you could tell your story out loud and an adult could write it down or record it on their mobile phone.

How to:

1. Think about a time when you could have done with a bit of help. Perhaps when you fell over or fell out with a friend? Something like that.
2. Close your eyes and imagine someone - or something - came along to help you. An animal or an alien? Someone from history or a made-up creature?
3. Open your eyes and say hello to your surprising, helpful visitor! What's their name? How will they help you?
4. Write or tell your story about how things are different when your surprising, helpful visitor arrives.
5. Remember, it's your story and you can make up anything you like!
